

FENNVILLE FAMILY FESTIVITIES

The leaves are blustering away as the winds pick up and the cold air moves in. All sure signs of what's to come. The Fennville Holiday Planning Committee has already been busy organizing the Holiday Celebrations. Before you know it, the streets will be busy with the hustle and bustle of the holiday season, and the air will be filled with friendly holiday cheer.

The theme for the 2015 holiday celebrations, for both the Christmas Parade and Window Decorating Contest, will be "Holiday Lights." Prizes for First (1st) and Second (2nd) place winners, for both parade participants and window decorations, will be $50 and $25 Fennville Dollars!

Family friendly activities will be provided by several area businesses.

Activities-arts, crafts, toy train show and refreshments for the kids will be offered at the Fennville District Library.

Santa and Mrs. Claus will be available for your own personal photo opportunities at the museum, where refreshments will also be served. *Note: Photos will NOT be provided at this year's event. Parents will need to provide their own camera.

Participating this year will be Al-Van Humane Society providing a meet and greet from 2-6 at the 220 building. There will be pets available for adoption. Al-Van Humane Society is located in South Haven and serves both Allegan and Van Buren Counties.
